Stanley A. (Stan) Bockmann

Education: Drexel University, BS, Business Administration

Experience: IT Technical and Management roles, Westinghouse Electric and General Electric Partner, Isogenix, Inc., IT Consulting Partner, Capstone Property Services, LLC Director, To Every Tribe Ministries Partner, Legacy Ventures Network, LLC Trustee, Alvah and Doris Veit Foundation Trustee, Legacy Generational Foundation

After graduating from Drexel University in 1969 with a BS degree in Business Administration, Stan spent 35 years in the IT sector in both technical and management roles. After working for RCA, Westinghouse Electric and General Electric, he partnered in a consulting firm for ten years.

Stan served as an elder in his local church for over 40 years, spent three years on pastoral staff and has been licensed to the Gospel ministry by his local church. God has blessed him with spiritual gifts of teaching and encouragement and with a passion for personal discipleship ministry. Over the last twenty-five years, God has increasingly broadened Stan's vision to employ those gifts and passions among the least-reached peoples of the world.

Stan spent several years on the board of Faith Calvary Ministries, which assisted church-planting efforts in North India. Later, he spent three years on the staff of To Every Tribe Ministries as Director of its Missionary Sending Agency.

More recently, he has served as a trustee of the Alvah and Doris Veit Foundation since 2014 and is currently a partner in Legacy Ventures Network, a for-profit company seeking to advance the Gospel to the least-reached through the marketplace. He has served as a Trustee of the Legacy Generational Foundation since its inception.

Stan has been married to Reeda for fifty-five years. The Lord has blessed them with three children, ten grandchildren and two great-grandsons. Stan and Reeda together enjoy both travelling and opening their home to family, friends and strangers.
